Founders Day planners looking for help

Group to discuss the annual event Saturday

By LEIGH ROESSLER
New Albany News Reporter

Even though Founders Day isn't until May 20, residents have begun planning it.

Co-Chairman Nancy Curtis said the group is hoping for as much community involvement as possible.

One way to get firsthand information would be to attend the 9 a.m. Saturday meeting of the committee at Village Hall, 19 E. Main St.

Residents "are more than welcome to come to the meeting. We can always use help and we'd love to have them join us," Curtis said.

Curtis and Co-chairman Mike Crommes are heading the group which will produce the 20th year of Founders Day held on the school campus.

The New Albany-Plain Township Historical Society along with many other volunteers holds the event to celebrate the founding of the community by Noble Landon and William Yantis in 1837.

This year's theme is "We're a Little Bit Country."

Grand marshals for the parade are Helen Garrabrant and Evelyn Swickard.

Along with the standards of the festivities people have come to love, Curtis said she hopes to bring a live band, line dancing and fireworks to the event this year.

Standards include flea market, auction, pancake breakfast, fun run, 5K run and pony rides.

Also quickly becoming a standard is the sale of a pamphlet produced by the society and written by member John Saveson.

This year, Saveson has edited a reminiscence of Aziel Schockley's life in the area titled Those Were The Days.

Schockley's family moved to Central Ohio from Germany in the 1850s and were founding members of Saint Paul's Lutheran Church, 4686 E. Walnut St.

Other works by Saveson include historic New Albany: People and Places which tells the story of the founding of the community and some of the more historic sites in town including the J.J. Beecher House, now the home of The Bath & Body Works.

Saveson also penned Historic Plain Township: People and Places which explores the rich history of the township including its beginning as a military district to satisfy the claims of Revolutionary War veterans.

All three books may be purchased at Founders Day or may be purchased before the event by contacting Sally Hess at 855-7832.

Cost of each pamphlet is $1.50 and proceeds benefit the society.

Miss Founders Day deadline drawing near

By J.J. THOMPSON
New Albany News Staff Reporter

Time is running out for New Albany-area young women who are interested in entering the Miss Founders Day competition.

Applications must be turned in by April 28, said organizer Vicki Baird, and the pageant is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. May 19 in the New Albany Middle School gymnasium.

The pageant is divided into three age groups: Little Miss (ages 4-8), Junior Miss (ages 9-13) and Miss Founders Day (ages 14-18).

Candidates must either reside in Plain Township or New Albany, attend an area church or belong to a community organization.

The applications should include information about the candidate's hobbies, interests, school and community activities. Contestants must also state in an essay with 150 words or less how they can best represent the community.

Baird said the Founders Day commission will review the applications and conduct brief interviews on the night of the pageant.

"It's pretty much a follow-up to what they put down on the application," she said. "It'll be probably two questions, nothing really major."

Three finalists in each age group will be selected and announced that night. Prizes and gifts will be awarded to each finalist, Baird said.

Winners will participate in the Founders Day parade May 20.

Candidates may be asked to fulfill other duties during the year, Baird said, and will be asked to return the next year to help crown the new finalists.

"We would hope at special events we would have the girls," she said.

The Founders Day theme this year is "We're a little bit country."

For pageant information, contact Baird at 855-2657.

Village may study intersections

By J.J. THOMPSON
New Albany News Staff Reporter

Village officials are looking at what appear to be accident-prone intersections in the area.

Councilman Glyde Marsh mentioned during council committee meetings last week intersections at Central College Road and state Route 605 and Kitzmiller Road and state Route 161 seem to have several accidents.

"My thought is they should be studied," he later said. "My concern is as far as morning rush hour and evening rush hour when people try to skirt around New Albany."

Police Chief Richard Sellan said there have been several accidents at the intersections Marsh discussed, including a recent incident where a van rolled over at Central College.

"He's lucky he didn't get seriously hurt," he said. "That could have been dangerous."

Council will have to decide if it wants the intersections studied, said Village Administrator Ellen Walker. To install a traffic light, municipalities must receive a permit from the state, which grants them based on the volume of traffic and number of accidents.

The village engineer has looked at the Central College intersection and does not believe it has the traffic volume needed to put up a light, she said. There also does not appear to be enough accidents at the site to warrant a traffic light.

However, she said it is expected that traffic will increase at the site, and it might be a better idea for the village to look at it again when the New Albany Expressway bypass is open.

The Kitzmiller intersection has been a trouble spot, Walker said, but officials expect conditions to improve because of the way Kitzmiller will be rebuilt for the expressway bypass.

"We have seen several accidents there and it's been a chronic problem," she said.

Scouts perk up parks Saturday

New Albany area Boy Scout troop 450 in conjunction with Sears Hardware and the Columbus Recreation and Parks Department will clean up trash and debris, mulch and weed flower beds, and plant annual flowers at Hoover Reservoir in observance of Earth Day, from 9 a.m. to noon Saturday.

Lunch will be provided to scouts by Sears Hardware at Wolfe Park.
